Our Commissioning

Churches, like most organizations, draft and have mission statements. But what is the “commission” of the church? What are we commanded by Jesus to go and do? Why are we really here? It is often pointed out at the end of Matthew’s Gospel that Jesus gave the apostles a “great commissioning”. We are a part of that commissioning tradition as the church in and for the world but sometimes we misinterpret the commissioning that Jesus sends his followers out to do. In fact, this isn’t even the only time in Matthew’s Gospel that Jesus send his students out into the world with a set of tasks.

There are two commissioning stories in Matthew’s Gospel. This year they appear back-to-back in our lectionary cycle. The first one mentioned in the Matthews Gospel takes place in Matthew 9:35-10:42 and it contains Jesus’ famous declaration that, “The harvest is plentiful but the laborers are few.” Jesus sends the 12 named disciples with his authority to cast out unclean spirits, cure every disease and every sickness, and to proclaim the good news to the lost sheep of the house of Israel and that the Kingdom of God has come near. He also tells them to work for their food and live off the hospitality of those they help but do not take payment for the work that they are doing.

The second commission is perhaps more famous than the first. It comes after the resurrection as Jesus tells the apostles, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age.” One of the things we often lose in this great commissioning is that we are to go out to “make disciples of all nations” who adhere to the teachings and the way of Jesus. One of the ways this has been used is to make people ‘believers’ in a certain doctrine or dogma of a church or denomination.

Church doctrines, teachings and practices can be very helpful and useful but they can also stand in the way and become a stumbling block for work that Jesus is commanding us to do.

Together, these two commissioning narratives give us our identity or sense of purpose in and for the world as the body of Christ. It gives us a commission in and for the world. There is a great deal of brokenness in our world that needs healing and wholeness, grace, and love. How can we as the Church answer the call by the authority of Jesus to cure the sick, cast out unclean spirits, proclaim the good news that God’s Kingdom has come near, while making disciples of the way of Jesus? It is as simple as loving God and loving our neighbor as ourselves. We have the promise that Jesus will be with us in the work we are called to do in and for this world.

At Trinity, we have many opportunities to practice our faith and participate in the Great Commission of Christ in and for the world. All people are invited to participate in our community meals every third Saturday of the month at noon. We have a community service project coming up in June as we renew our partnership with Habitat for Humanity. And we are planning other opportunities for outreach and service through the Summer and Fall as we prepare to celebrate the 500th Anniversary of the Reformation this October. Please join us at Trinity as we continue to serve God and our neighbors in answering the Great Commission of Christ!

MARCH 21, 2017

Council Highlights

1. Memorial services for Bryan Gaffney are still pending. Pastor Scott is working with two other pastors in the area regarding a memorial service for Jack Simmons.
2. A meeting regarding Habitat for Humanity was held last night (March 20) at Christ Lutheran Church, but no one from Trinity attended. Chris of Habitat for Humanity asserts that any financial gift we make will be dedicated 100% to materials for Long Beach building projects. Persons can contribute financially, physically at build sites, or by preparing lunches for participants. Marilyn Bohl offered to make a challenge gift of $1,000, meaning she will match whatever funds others at Trinity contribute, up to $1,000. Pastor Scott and Trevor Wolter urged that Trinity as a church also direct funds to Habitat for Humanity Long Beach projects. June 11, 2017, is part of the ELCA's service weekend, and Council indicated a desire that the Outreaching Committee take responsibility for organizing a Habitat-for-Humanity service project.
Trevor Wolter offered a motion, seconded by Roland, and passed that Trinity get behind Habitat for Humanity efforts in Long Beach volunteer-wise and finance-wise.
3. President Rice showed samples of parking permit papers to be distributed monthly to parking tenants when they pay monthly parking fees, to place on their cars. After discussion, it was proposed that a written procedure be created to document how enforcement of the policy will work before permits are distributed. Kathy Glendening suggested the tenants should sign copies of the procedure to indicate they have been informed of it. The Property Committee will target for implementation May 1.
4. Trevor Wolter noted that about 25 people, only two of whom were other than members or friends of Trinity, attended the third Trinity Concert of this year's concert series last Saturday, March 18, 2017. The concert gave him a rare opportunity to just listen to our organ; he declared, "Our organ is a beautiful organ in a beautiful space." He also noted there's room for improvement in publicizing the concert series, and he's determined to get presenters pinned down earlier next year to help provide for that. Ms. Bohl reported that $202.05 was received as the free will offering.
5. Cooper Hundertmark's suggestion to open the 8th Street doors on Sunday morning has been implemented, and four persons have entered through those doors on Sunday morning. The lock on the downstairs door has not been implemented but Bob Pedder will get it done this week. The A-frame sign is also getting people's attention and will be used more.
6. The Outreaching Committee proposed that Sunday, October, 29th be observed as Reformation Sunday with Trinity hosting a community celebration at 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Other ELCA and non-ELCA congregations will be invited to help us plan and implement it. President Rice asked about the possibility of a mass choir. Mr. Wolter noted that the Property Committee will be consulted to confirm the October 29th date and the Discipling Committee will be involved in planning and decision making. Motion was made by Fenton Glendening, seconded by Jan Laser, and passed unanimously that Trinity committees proceed with planning and implementation of a joint Reformation Sunday celebration October 29, 2017.

7. Kathy Glendening presented a written report of a local “Town Hall Meeting” held February 23, 2017, to present facts and address questions regarding sanctuary status. When asked to expand upon risk and rewards, Pastor Scott stated no one really knows what the risks will be because administration policies/actions are not established, lawsuits are pending, there are lots of gray areas. A church can become a sanctuary congregation, or an ally to sanctuary congregations. We need to have an informational family forum about immigration, refugees, pending legislation, ..., get the facts out there, led by a third party, no minutes, no decisions. A reasonable time for such a meeting is some time after Easter. Trevor Wolter made a motion stating such a meeting should be held, Roland Johnson seconded, and the motion passed with one Nay vote.

–Marilyn Bohl, Secretary

Volunteer Today!

We need a volunteer or two to take charge of coordinating a summer festival for late July or early August. Last summer’s festival was a wonderful opportunity to be present in the community and we’d like to make this an annual tradition.

See Pr. Scott today to express your interest!

Martin Luther Writing About the Trinity

The king will desire your beauty. Since he is your lord, bow to him. –Psalm 45:11

If we cannot grasp how God is one and three persons, we should leave that up to Him. We should only incline our ear. He Himself says that our King [Jesus Christ] is God, and He commands us to adore Him. If you reject this King in the foolish superstition that you might break the First Commandment, then you have rejected the entire and true God, as the Arians [fourth century heretics] did.

If they object: “Then you make many gods,” I reply: “I do not make another or many gods, but I say that Father, Son, and Holy Spirit are one and the same God. There is a unity of substance and one Essence though there are three Persons. I do not want to have many gods, because many gods contend among themselves. Nor can there be many gods. But here is unity. If I do not understand how the Persons are differentiated, it is enough for me that Holy Scriptures say this and call Father, Son, and Holy Spirit by name (Matthew 28:19).

“If I could grasp this with my reason or senses, what need would there be for faith? Or what use is Scripture revealed by God through the Holy Spirit? If I believe nothing but what I can comprehend by my reason, I must reject Baptism, the Sacrament of the Altar, the Word, grace, original sin, and everything. Reason understands none of these things.”

From Luther’s commentary on Psalm 45 (1532)
